Challenges: Clients cancelling appointments due to illness has been a challenge this quarter. We may have overestimated our potential report counts in some areas.

Comments: Our report counts have increased from last quarter. We have confidence that our numbers will continue to increase now that even more marketing is underway. Our new website will launch very soon. Our outreach efforts will be expanding with our new hire. These pieces will increase community awareness for our center. Our new programs will also draw more clients. We are really excited about the work that the grant funds are allowing us to do as we strive to bring hope and positive alternatives to those in our community.
